Third Round Promise Zones Application Stage Site Access Request Form

Complete the following form to gain access to the stage site for the Third Round Promise Zones application. Within 1-2 business days, you will receive an individualized link to access and test the application stage site.

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the U.S. Department of Agriculture are soliciting public comments on the proposed selection process, criteria, and submissions for the third round of the Promise Zone initiative that has been announced via the Federal Register. HUD and USDA have created the stage site for applicants and other stakeholders to provide specific feedback on the intake mechanism. While the stage site reflects the Urban Promise Zone application guide, USDA will use a similar intake mechanism for Rural and Tribal Promise Zone applications.

The third round application guide is available at: www.hud.gov/promisezones. Comments are due by September 28th, 2015 and may be submitted at PromiseZones@hud.gov with "Third Round Promise Zone selections" in the subject line. Questions or comments may also be directed by postal mail to the Office of the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Economic Development, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street SW., Room 7136, Washington, DC 20410 ATTN: Third Round Promise Zone selections. Please note that this is a stage site for applicants and stakeholders to provide feedback on the application intake process. Any materials submitted via the stage site will not be considered for a Promise Zone designation.

Mapping Tool

The screenshot displays the HUD.GOV website's Promise Zones mapping tool. At the top, the HUD logo and 'HUD.GOV' are visible, along with the text 'U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Secretary Julián Castro'. A navigation bar includes links for HOME, ABOUT PD&R, RESEARCH & PUBLICATIONS, DATA SETS, INITIATIVES, QUICK LINKS, and EVENTS. A main banner for 'PROMISE ZONES' features a photograph of a residential building and a text box explaining the tool's purpose: to assist applicants in preparing data for HUD's Promise Zone initiative by allowing them to draw the exact location of the area they intend to serve. It provides a link to <https://www.onecpd.info/promise-zones> and instructions to click on 'Sign Up' or 'Log In' buttons.

Below the banner is a search bar with the placeholder text 'Enter an Address, city or state' and a 'Go' button. To the right of the search bar are dropdown menus for 'Select a State' and 'Select a County', followed by another 'Go' button. Below the search bar is a 'Legend' section with a 'Clear Map' button and a 'Current Zoom: 4' indicator. A 'LOG IN' button is located in the top right corner of the map area.

The map area shows a map of the United States with various states labeled. A sidebar on the left titled 'Promise Zone Options' lists several layers that can be toggled on or off: 'Current Zoom Level' (checked), 'Show Tribal Areas (Zoom 6+)', 'Show Counties (Zoom 6+)', 'Show Tracts (Zoom 9+)', 'Show Poverty (Zoom 9+)', and 'Show Block Groups (Zoom 12+)'. Below these options is a note: 'The mapping tool is populated by a large amount of data. After clicking these polygon guides, please wait for data to load before clicking on additional buttons. Also, after clicking "DRAW" you have to re-enable the optional layers if you need them as a guide to draw your shape.' At the bottom of the sidebar is an 'INSTRUCTIONS' button.

Community Development Marketplace

- The Community Development Marketplace (CDM) is a database of the Second Round Promise Zones Initiative applicant project data from 111 communities (86 urban, 18 rural, and 7 tribal) that consented to share their goals and activities template with the public. The CDM provides information that describes community goals, the proposed activities expected to advance their goals, and the organizations involved in implementing and supporting these projects.
- The purpose of the CDM is to allow communities to identify others who are working on similar issues, to help funders and social investors find potential investment opportunities, and assist other stakeholders in identifying potential partners.
- The CDM can be quickly filtered by keywords to yield information on the lead applicant, geographic locations, community goals, proposed activities, implementation partners, and expected outcomes around a topic of interest.
- This is an opportunity to create a community of peers and to share best practices around community revitalization efforts.

Data and Evaluation

USDA & HUD established a collaborative process for data sharing.

USDA, HUD and other federal agencies have identified key indicators and data sources linked with Promise Zone designees' goals.

- A list of indicators and data sources that Promise Zones can use to track their progress towards key goals is available here.
- Federal partners also developed a strategy to access and aggregate nationally available, neighborhood-level data and share that data with PZ designees to help with evaluation.
- Federal Partners are asking sites to help access and share local data (e.g. on crime, education) to assist with tracking changes over time and with future evaluations of the Initiative. \(Read the Data Tracking Strategies Summary\).

An additional resource that communities can use to identify local data sources is the Data Inventory from the Place Based Data Project, a report produced for the Department of Health and Human Services by the Urban Institute. \(Read the Report\).

The Data Inventory is a list of federal, state, and local sources for neighborhood-level data that communities can use to measure a baseline, or track progress over time on community and economic development goals related to health, education, crime, and employment.

Third Round Public Comment

USDA & HUD invite public comments on the proposed selection process, criteria, and submissions for the third round of the Promise Zones initiative. In addition, commenters are encouraged to address any or all of the following questions.

A. Overarching Questions

- 1) Are the programs that provide preferential access for designated Promise Zones helpful? Are there policy areas or issues that are not represented?
- 2) If the community is not designated, but you and your partners intend to continue community revitalization efforts, please explain what particular types of information, technical assistance, peer exchange, introductions or other non-competitive assistance would be helpful to you as you move your work forward?
- 3) Do you find the MAX SURVEY sufficiently easy to use compared to other federal application systems (e.g. Grants.Gov)?
- 4) Would you be willing to provide the type of information requested in the Goals and Activities template for purposes of potentially connecting you to federal and private partners/peers that could facilitate your community's development work if it were not part of a competition for a federal designation? See MAX Survey.

Third Round Public Comment

B. Community Development Marketplace (CDM)

5) What kind of potential user are you? USDA & HUD ha heard from foundations, investors, communities, researchers, and national intermediaries, but there may be others who can use this data.

6) Does the Third Round template capture information that would be useful to you?
See MAX Survey link at www.hud.gov/promisezones

7) Are there additional pieces of information that would assist you in filtering and searching for information you would like to have?

C. Promise Zone Website

8) Is the website clear and easy to use? If not, what elements would be most helpful?

9) Is the interagency program information presented on the website well-matched to your community's needs? If not, what type of information would be most helpful to add?

Third Round Public Comment

D. Community & Stakeholder Engagement

10) Do you find Promise Zone communications through emails, webinars, written documents and other means, useful to organizations working in your community? Please elaborate on what is useful or what could be done to make it more useful.

11) How can USDA and HUD communicate more clearly/effectively with residents and community based organizations about the way that the Promise Zone initiative operates and how it supports local work?

12) How can the Promise Zone Initiative better engage new Americans and immigrant stakeholders?

E. Data Collection, Research, and Evaluation

13) How can the Promise Zone make use of the EPA Smart Location Database?

14) Does the Promise Zone framework for tracking data address the issue of burdening designees in terms of data access and reporting? Are there other ways we could accomplish this?

15) Is the Promise Zone table of core indicators, measures, and data sources useful for community development outcome tracking? Are there other measures that should be added?
