

HUD Regional Teams Technical Assistance

HUD provides a technical assistance provider Point of Contact to all CoCs through Regional Teams. This Point of Contact is available for light-touch support to communities and their homeless response systems. While many TA engagements are time-limited and focused on a specific task, Regional Teams allows communities to access technical assistance as needed.

Connecting with Regional Teams TA

Regional TA Points of Contact offer long-term, light-touch support to communities. This includes support to navigate federal funding regulations, share information about resources, and provide guidance about best practices and interventions.

When beginning work with a CoC, TA providers should consider connecting with their Regional TA Point of Contact to ensure there is a plan to coordinate and sustain the various TA engagements.

→ Gain Historical Knowledge

Points of Contact may have historical knowledge on systems operations, key partners, and community dynamics.

→ Coordinate Initiatives

Points of Contact can be leveraged to coordinate various TA engagements so CoCs feel there is cohesive approach.

→ Sustain Change

Points of Contact are in CoCs long-term and can provide light-touch TA to sustain and continuously improve systems change initiated through TA.
